National Media Hostile to PM

The event at the National Press Club, at which the Prime Minister summarised the issues and challenges of the government, sent the wrong message to our international partners given the hostile reception and the lack of ethical journalism as shown by the quality of the questions asked.

The highly influential left-wing members of the National Press Club have failed in their duty to provide independent, fair and unbiased reporting. The media has lost its respect for our highest serving government official, the Prime Minister, irrespective of which party is in power.

“The Prime Minister should not be subjected to ‘gotcha moments’ which are not only unprofessional but lack true media responsibility.

These type of questions serve no real purpose other than to ridicule and demean the Prime Minister,” said Greg Bondar Spokesman for FamilyVoice.
