Immigration minister should review Phoebe Bridgers' visa in light of Margaret Court abuse

American singer Phoebe Bridgers should have her visa reviewed in light of her recent reported comments at a performance at Margaret Court Arena:

“So, Margaret Court. F that stupid, dumb b*. F that stupid c. Change your name!”, said Bridgers.

She then asked the riled-up crowd to chant “F Margaret Court!” before saying: “I think hate is undervalued. I think it’s like a fing weird, white supremacist idea that hate is bad, or something?”

“It’s appalling that an American singer would abuse a national treasure like Margaret Court,” said FamilyVoice spokesman David d’Lima.

“The immigration minister should urgently review Phoebe Bridgers’ visa.

“Abusing an 80 year old is not the type of behaviour of someone of ‘good character.’”
