Councils must reject gender neutrality

FamilyVoice Australia firmly rejects a State Parliament move to impose gender-neutrality on local councils.

“We urge local councils to reject the imposition of gender-neutrality on their by-laws, and instead concentrate on minimising bureaucracy and lowering rates,” said FamilyVoice gender spokesman David d’Lima.

“State Parliament has no business imposing woke culture on anyone, including its own standing orders,” he said.

“Our legislators must have higher priorities to address without wasting time on politically-correct agendas that just make more work for administrators that must be funded by the long-suffering tax-payer.”
