Trim the ABC's overreach

The ABC must experience budget cuts whenever it engages in blatant political overreach, according to FamilyVoice spokesman David d'Lima.

“Accusations of blatant political bias by the ABC, including its recent unwarranted attack on National MPs for allegedly not assisting flood victims, should result in budget cuts,” said FamilyVoice spokesman David d'Lima.

“No amount of community or political outcry will bring the public broadcaster to account unless it is backed by financial penalty,” he said.
